

-
-
1. Identify the parts of SOAPStone for the text.
-
-

Subject:

Occasion:

Audience:

Purpose:

Speaker:

Tone:

2. Highlight the text for the following rhetorical devices:
-
-

Ethos: Green

Pathos: Blue

Logos: Light Yellow

Parallelism: Orange

Repetition: Pink

Connotative Language: Dark Yellow

Tone:

3. Quick Write: Based on the situation described on Lothal, would you be persuaded to rebel against the Empire because of Ezra's speech? Be careful to remember that the punishment for disobeying the Empire may include death and/or torture based on if they think you could be made to reveal information about other rebel groups.

Star Wars: Rebels

"Call to Arms" Ezra's Speech

We've been called criminals, but we are not.

We are rebels, fighting for the people, fighting for you. I'm not that old, but I remember a time when things were better on Lothal. Maybe not great, but never like this. See what the Empire's done to your lives, to your families, and to your freedom? It's only going to get worse unless we stand up and fight back. It won't be easy. There will be loss and sacrifice, but we can't back down just because we're afraid. That's when we need to stand the tallest. That's what my parents taught me. That's what my new family helped me remember. So stand up together because that's when we're strongest, as one.